A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood.

Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn't make the flabby fat of corpulency, but the firm flesh of health. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to inebriate or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glen Savage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was as weak and nervous as though I had been starved for months. My heart kept throbbing continually and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you informed me that I had indigestion and a torpid liver. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' from you and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere, —seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich.

E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Special Agents.

WEAK

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.
D. KAUBLE, Nevada, O.

Digests What You Eat

Dollar bottle holds 2½ times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

The government was defeated in the British House of Commons last night on an amendment offered by John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, to reduce the membership of the Irish land commission. The vote stood 199 in favor of the amendment to 196 against it. Intense excitement followed the announcement of the vote. The liberals and Irish members stood for some minutes cheering and shouting "resign."

When the tumult subsided and the usual motion to adjourn the sitting was put, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the leader of the liberals, asked whether in view of its defeat the government had any statement to make, Sir Henry was loudly cheered. Prime Minister Balfour replied that it was impossible to make any statement at present.

John Redmond, amid Irish cheers, reminded Mr. Balfour that he had repeatedly declared that he would resign if he was defeated in the House. He said that if Mr. Balfour disregarded this vote of want of confidence it would be contrary to all precedents. Mr. Redmond asked if he were going to swallow his humiliation as he had swallowed every other during the past few years. He declared that if the government clung to office despite the vote it would be the duty of the opposition to use every means to prevent such an outrage.

Mr. Balfour, speaking with his accustomed coolness, said that Mr. Redmond greatly agitated himself about a matter which would be settled in due time. This statement caused an uproar. Continuing, Mr. Balfour said he was unconscious of any humiliation. There would be ample opportunity within a few hours of proving whether the government still enjoyed the confidence of the majority of the House. The Premier said he would consult his colleagues as to whether the question would again be submitted to a vote and would make a statement Monday.

Mr. Balfour has met with his first serious defeat this session, though such a contingency has been long expected. The Prime Minister's nominal majority in the House of Commons is about 80, and it has been steadily diminishing in the series of bye elections of the last two years. In previous divisions it has sunk to 26. The defeat is all the more significant as Mr. Balfour two days previous had impressed on his followers at a general meeting of the party the necessity for constant attendance in the House, to enable the government to wind up the session and to defer the dissolution till next year. As a result he was able to obtain a majority of 90 for the third reading of the alien immigration bill on Wednesday.

Double Tragedy.

News of a double tragedy at Evinston, Fla., has been received. John P. Hester, a prominent merchant, shot Postmaster W. G. Barron, and shot and killed his son, Watt Barron. For several months, it is understood, Barron and Hester have been on bad terms and recently, it is said, Hester reported Barron to the Postoffice Department at Washington, charging mismanagement of the affairs of the Evinston office. Wednesday afternoon Hester sent a messenger for his mail. Postmaster Barron refused to deliver the mail without a written order and so informed the messenger, requesting him to return to Hester and secure a written order. Instead of complying with the request, it is said, Hester picked up a shotgun from his store and proceeded to the postoffice, when the shooting occurred, the postmaster being severely wounded. Watt Barron, a son of the postmaster, was loading a car with watermelons a few rods from the scene. Hearing the report of the gun, he left the car and proceeded toward the store to ascertain the trouble, when he was met by Hester and instantly killed. Hester mounted a horse and made his escape after the tragedy, and up to this hour no information of his arrest has been received. It is said that the wounds of Postmaster Barron are serious, but not necessarily fatal.

Elephant Tossed Child.

A dispatch from Paterson, N. J., says that Lena, the largest of a number of performing elephants at Fairyland, in the presence of a large crowd, picked up a 3-year-old girl Wednesday night and before the trainer could interfere tossed the child some distance, where she landed on soft earth. When the little one felt herself encircled by the trunk of the elephant she struggled and screamed, and women and children, who expected to see the little one dashed to pieces, ran away in terror. A trainer picked up the child where it had been tossed by the elephant and found that the little one was not injured. The little girl was apparently alone, and after the incident a search was made for her parents, but no one claimed the child. She was taken to the police station, where her brother called some time later to report her missing and took her home.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful menstruation—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the womb. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter;

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

On Strike For Ice.

Clothcutters employed by Kirschbaum & Co. in Philadelphia, went on strike yesterday because there was a slight delay in providing their daily supply of ice-water. Although the men were informed that the firm was making every effort to secure ice, the workers waited only about one hour after arrival before holding a meeting of their union and going on strike. This move affected but 350 workers out of the 1,10C employed by the firm in the same building, but the action of the men caused excitement in the neighborhood for a time. The firm provides about 11,000 pounds of ice each day for the factory, but yesterday the wholesalers who supply it were held up by the nondelivery of cars.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Coughs and Cold which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong.,' It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guranteed at 50c and $1.00 by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist. Try them today.

The Only Way to Cure.

To cure a cold when you have no cough—to cure a cough when you have no cold—to cure yourself when you have both—take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. The new idea, the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It contains no opiates and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Pleasant to the taste and equally good for child or adult. Remember the name, "Kennedy's." and see that the red clover blossom and the honey bee is on the bottle, Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. Take no other. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner of Queen and Patrick street.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 21, 1905.

MR. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, it is said, thirsts for sympathy and hungers for kind words. With his uncounted millions and his mastery of men, his lifelong ambition gratified and no more worlds left for his conquering, the richest man in the world sits by the hour at Forest Hill, his chin sunk in his breast, or walks for hours under the trees of his magnificent estate, always alone, except for his guards, who keep at a distance from him, always in gloom. He has lost interest in golf; he has become morose. Never free in his conversations with his employes, he now speaks only when absolutely necessary, and then gives his directions tersely and absently. His greatest interest now is in his press-clipping bureau, which is known to be a system perfected as highly as those maintained for the benefit of kings. The flood of printed denunciation recently let loose upon him exercises over him a fascination from which he cannot escape, though the inevitable consequence is humiliation and heartburning. Instead of denunciations, Mr. Rockefeller should have the sympathy of mankind, burdened as he is by hundreds of millions of dollars, which bring their many cares and make him a target for the envious and irresponsible, while wild-eyed people are ever reminding him of the difficulty experienced by a rich man in entering the kingdom of heaven. We are told, however, that this is possible. In the meantime the modern Crœsus mingles with the brethren in the prayer meeting and delivers humble exhortations. While it is true that "not many wise men, not many mighty, not many noble are called," they are by no means excluded, and the unfortunate possessor of hundreds of millions of dollars will as gladly lay down his burden at the close of life as those who have all their lives battled with poverty.

THE BATTLE OF BULL RUN was fought forty-four years ago today. A comparatively small percentage of the present inhabitants of Alexandria are old enough to remember the event. Some, however, do, and many of the thrilling scenes incident to the falling back of the federal army upon Alexandria and Washinton will be reproduced when attention is called to the anniversary. The United States troops had been in possession of this city nearly two months, during which time the population had greatly increased. Regiment after regiment had passed through Alexandria on the way to the front, and our people who had relatives and friends in the Confederate army realized that the belligerents would soon come together. On the eventful 21st day of July, 1861, the sound of carnage was wafted from Bull Run to this city, the first engagement that had taken place within hearing distance of Alexandria since the British vessels engaged the American batteries at the White House during the second war with the mother country. The remnants of the federal army, tired, hungry and depressed, arrived here in squads the next day to tell the story.

MR. JAMES R. CATON in a card in yesterday's Gazette, announced his candidacy for re-election to the Legislature from Alexandria city and county. His action was in deference to many citizens who have appreciated his labors while a member of the General Assembly. Mr. Caton's advent into legislative life was at a time when the State needed competent, practical and active men—such as would need no apprenticeship in their calling, but be ready to grasp the situation instantly. The new constitution was being framed and the work of the Legislature in conforming things thereto was onerous. As a member of the codification committee Mr. Caton's labors were severe, but he never flagged until they were completed satisfactorily. While his friends in no way desire to minimize the worth of other candidates who are in the race for legislative honors, they think Mr. Caton honestly deserves a re-election.

CHINA'S BOYCOTT against American goods became effective yesterday, and as a result there will be a large falling off in the exportation of products from this to that country. The American jingoes are now in a tantrum and are demanding retaliation by this government, but they entirely overlook the fact that the Chinese have for years been treated most shamefully by those in authority in this country and that the step they have just taken is the most effective way in which to bring the American people to a realization of the fact that it takes at least two to play at the restriction game.

SEVERAL WELL-KNOWN politicians were arrested in Philadelphia yesterday on the charge of ballot box stuffing. Still the Philadelphia politicians are those most bitter in their denunciation of the South whenever even a rumor is started of unfair elections in this section!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
Washington, D. C., July 21.

Arguments by Attorney Baker, in behalf of Thomas M. Fields, who was recently convicted of embezzlement of about $16,000 of the funds of the Washington Beneficial Association while acting as co-receiver, were heard by Justice Wright this morning in the Criminal Court, on a motion for a new trial. Assistant District Attorney Easby-Smith asked for a continuance until next Friday when he will present the government an answer to the argument submitted by Mr. Baker. Fields who is out on bail will present a new witness, who it is claimed, will put an entirely new phase on the case by his testimony, if a new trial is granted.

It was admitted at the State Department that U. S. Minister Clay, at Berne, Switzerland, had made formal complaint to the department against the French Ambassador, at Berne, who, Mr. Clay alleged, failed to return his official call. The complaint of Minister Clay was received by the State Department about ten days ago and was immediately referred to United States Ambassador McCormick at Paris, for settlement with the French government. It is said at the State Department that Minister Clay's dispatch was short and contained few of the details of the trouble which, it is believed here, can be amicably settled by Ambassador McCormick, at Paris, without being formally made the subject of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and France.

The number of fraud orders being issued by the Postoffice Department exceeds that of corresponding periods since the first order was issued in 1879. This increase is due to the system Postmaster General Cortelyou had the inspectors adopt for revealing fraudulent concerns using the mails and for bringing them to justice. This system is for the inspectors not to wait for complaint to be made about concerns, but for them to be observant and bring to the attention of the assistant attorney general for the Postoffice Department suspicious concerns or persons using the mails.

Information received here is to the effect that Mr. Swanson is making a most effective canvass for Governor of Virginia, and that he is well in the lead. When he was defeated four years ago at the Norfolk convention his graceful acceptance of defeat and his subsequent manly course in aiding in the election of his opponent won him hosts of friends all over the State who are now lending their aid in securing for him the nomination. The others on the State ticket it is believed will be Ellyson for Lieutenant Governor, Anderson for Attorney General and Eggleston for Superintendent of Public Instruction. Little doubt is expressed here of the re-election of Senator Martin to the Senate.

Bids for 2,000 Italian, 2,000 Japanese and 2,000 Chinese laborers for the canal will be opened at the Canal Commission offices here at 10 a. m., August 15th, for delivery on the Isthmus December 1st. This batch of laborers will constitute the first for which bids will be received by the commission, the 12,000 West Indian and other operatives now at work on the Isthmus having been employed individually. Full information concerning submission of bids may be obtained at the purchasing agents' offices in Tacoma and San Francisco.

Every effort will be made by the Agricultural Department officials to recognize the bureau of statistics and to place its work above suspicion before Congress meets. Prof. Willet M. Hays, assistant Secretary, will continue as the temporary head of the bureau, but Secretary Wilson, or Prof. Hays as acting Secretary, and a board of bureau chiefs will get out the crop reports until Congress meets. The officials want to show Congress that they are capable of reorganizing the bureau and thus avoid its transfer to the Department of Commerce and Labor It was stated this morning that Assistant Secretary Hays may be given permanent charge of the Bureau of Statistics.

It is reported here that the present Public Printer, Mr. Palmer, will probably be succeeded by Joseph L. Bristow, formerly Fourth Assistant Postmaster General and the man under whose direction the huge frauds in the postal service were ferreted out. Mr. Bristow is a printer by profession and a sleuth by instinct.

The appointment of John McMackin, of New York, consul at Georgetown, Guiana, was announced at the State Department today.

The Southern Railway.

It is ascertained on good authority that the impending report of the Southern Railway's business for the fiscal year ended June 30 will be one of the most remarkable annual reports ever made by a railroad in the South. The year has been the best the system has ever enjoyed and the increase in revenues is said to make a wonderful showing. The report is to be issued in the next few days.

Judge Pritchard, of the United States Court, after hearing arguments at Asheville, N. C., yesterday, in the case of the appointment of a receivership for the South Carolina and Georgia Railroad, a branch of the Southern, decided that there was no cause for a receiver. The case involved the constitutional amendment of South Carolina making it unlawful for any railroad to merge, lease or control a competing line. It is claimed that the Southern took over the South Carolina and Georgia road, a competing line, in violation of the law, and that citizens of South Carolina now had suits pending against the Southern to the amount of $470,000. President Samuel Spencer and Vice-Presidents Andrews, Ackert, Powell and other high officials were present.

One speaker said they had appealed to the Emperor, and now they should appeal to the people. The Congress passed resolutions against officials' violation of private and social rights.

China's official notification to the powers that she will not recognize any arrangements regarding Manchuria concerning which she has not been consulted beforehand, has reached Washington and will be forwarded to the President at Oyster Bay. Before addressing this note to the neutral powers, China sent to St. Petersburg and Tokio an identical note containing this notification. The Chinese communication is briefly worded and is so expressed that it calls for no reply.

The United States Tobacco Company, of Richmond, Va., was granted a temporary injunction by Judge Lowell, in the United States Circuit Court in Boston, yesterday, against the American Tobacco Company of New York, restraining the latter from giving away to its customers and jobbers certain packages of cut plug put up in such form and style as the plaintiff claims constitutes unfair competition with one of its brands of cut-plug tobacco. The court does not however, restrain the American Tobacco Company from giving away the tobacco provided it has a label on it to distinguish it from the plaintiff's package.

Thomas N. Connaway, of Berlin, Md., traced his former sweetheart, Mollie Apple, to Schneider's German Cafe, in Baltimore, early last evening, and shot and seriously wounded her. Having fired four shots at her, he then entered the bar and attempted to end his own life. This shot, like three of those he had fired at the woman, went wild, though the man imagined he had shot himself, and, when the police had found him, he lay on the floor with the empty revolver beside him. Connaway is now locked up at the Central Police Station, charged with shooting Mollie Apple, with intent to kill, while the victim is at the City Hospital. The physicians do not think at this time that the wound will prove fatal.

End of Chicago Strike.

The end of the teamsters' strike, that has so greatly disturbed business conditions in Chicago for the last three months, is apparently at hand. Most of the 5,000 strikers have made a complete surrender, and will today seek their former positions without an agreement of any kind with the employers.

The first break in the ranks of the strikers came yesterday afternoon, when the lumber teamsters voted to return to work regardless of what action might be taken by any other union. Last-night the department store drivers and the railway express drivers voted to call off the strike and seek their former positions in the morning. It is expected that about 60 per cent. of the department store drivers will be reinstated. Today the truck drivers and one of two smaller unions will vote on the question of calling off the strike, and there is little doubt, union officers say, that they will decide to seek their former places.

The employers say that only such men will be taken back as are needed after the nonunion men have been provided for, and that the question of wearing the union button must be left to the individual employer.

Bread Riots in Spain.

Seriovas disorders have occurred at Seville and Salamanca, Spain arising from the general distress. Four hundred farm hands invaded Seville, looted the bakeries and shops, and committed other depredations, until they were dispersed by a strong force of police and gendarmes. A mob stormed the city hall at Salamanca, broke into the building, and sacked it. A member of the municipal council, fleeing from the rioters, jumped from a window and was killed. The republicans are summoning mass meetings in Madrid and elsewhere. The government fears a spread of the disorders, and is taking precautions.

The Market.

Georgetown, July 21.—Wheat 60a88.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Editor of Alexandria Gazette,

Sir—The persistent efforts made by Gov. Montague and some of his supporters to rob Senator Martin of the credit due him for his advocacy and support of legislation in the interest of navy yard employees continues in spite of the fact that the persons mostly interested (viz. navy yard employees) have through their associations and committees rendered to Senator Martin thanks for his aid.

Having heard the remarks of Gov. Montague made in a speech delivered in the Opera House several weeks ago and which was substantially repeated by Congressman Jones in a recent published interview, we were surprised at the lack of knowledge displayed by these gentlemen regarding this legislation. In reply to the charge that Senator Martin had nothing to do with the passage of the bill granting extra compensation for over-time made during the Spanish-American war by navy yard employees, as members of the committee from the Washington navy yard in charge of that bill before Congress we think we are qualified to give a true and impartial statement of the influence that secured its passage. It is true, as the Governor stated, that the bill was called up and passed upon motion of the Hon. Jno. F. Rixey, but we desire to say that this only carried the bill through the House of Representatives. Upon the bill reaching the Senate it was referred to the committee on naval affairs of which Senator Martin was a member. The writers, accompanied by the late Leonard Marbury called upon Senator Martin who promised to do all in in his power to pass the measure through the Senate. He was very succesful securing a heaing before the naval committee for our delegation and after we had presented our arguments, a favorable note was taken and Senator Martin authorized to write the report to the Senate which he did. Shortly after that the measure passed the Senate and thousands of dollars were paid to mechanics of the country, Virginia securing a large share. At least $5,000 was paid to our own citizens employed in the Washington navy yard. In regard to the bill granting fifteen days annual leave to the employees of the navy yards, naval stations and arsenals, we confess that the bill, as the Governor stated, was introduced in the House by Mr. Dayton, of West Virginia, and in the Senate by Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, but our honored Governor should know that the introduction of a bill is the very easiest part of the process; it has to go through before it becomes a law. Often, as in this case, the authors do the exert as much energy in favor of their bills as other members do. This bill was passed through the House through the efforts of Messrs. Dayton, Mudd, Rixey, Swanson and others. In the Senate this measure was supported by a number of Senators, but none of them excelled the Hon. Thos. S. Martin in zeal for this bill. He was at all times ready with advice and encouragement to the committee having this bill in charge, and the fact that this meritorious bill became a law, was largely through his efforts. As for the amendments, the Governor said were tacked on the bill, we desire to say that the bill was not changed in any respect in the Senate. The joint legislative committee having in charge these bills, men selected by the various bodies they represented and being in daily attendance at the Capitol, are certainly best qualified to say who aided their efforts. The testimonials from the machinists, pattern makers and moulders associations bear witness to the feeling of gratitude they feel toward Senator Martin. Our own citizens employed in the Washington navy yard are very fortunate, that upon the naval committees of both House and Senate, they have such sterling friends as Senator Martin and Representative Rixey have proven to be. As the undersigned were members of the committee charged with the responsibility of looking after the legislation before Congress, having devoted our time there and being familiar with its every detail we feel it our duty in the interest of fair play to give the facts through the columns of your paper to the public. We would be glad in this connection if we could in keeping with the facts also give credit to Congressman Jones, but as we did not number him among our friends at the time we needed help and as we do not believe he made the slightest effort to aid or assist us we can not consistently do so and we do not propose to permit either him or Gov. Montague to detract from those who did give us every assistance within their power. Mr. Jones made practically this same statement about four years ago and we challenged it in a published statement at the time and furnished him with the facts in connection with the matter, and we are at a loss to understand his motive unless it be to advanced the interest of one candidate by willfully detracting from the other.

Bombarded by Lightning.

An unusual freak of lightning is reported from Bedington, W. Va., where, during the heavy electrical storm Wednesday evening, the large stone and wood residence of James F. Mayhew was struck seven times. The lower portion of the structure is of solid masonry more than two feet thick, but two bolts of lightning tore holes in the wall and found egress through two windows on the opposite side of the room. The holes in the masonry are large enough to admit the passage of a man. Mr. Mayhew's wife, mother and niece were sitting in the room when the bolts passed through, but escaped without injury. The wooden portion of the house was struck five times, and one bolt fired the house, the flames, however, being extinguished without much difficulty.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Bennington Blown Up.

San Diego, Cal., July 21.—The boiler of the gunboat Bennington, lying in the harbor, exploded this morning. The entire ship was blown up so that she is seen to be listed badly. The first report says that 60 men were killed and 100 wounded.

Dozens of dead and wounded are being brought ashore. The Bennington had been ordered to proceed at once to Port Hartford and tow the monitor Wyoming to Mare Island.

The Wyoming broke one of her propellers and shafts while steaming against a heavy sea 30 miles off shore, but was able to make Port Hartford under her own steam.

Mr. Balfour's Defeat.

London, July 21.—The recount of the vote on the motion to reduce the membership of the Irish land commission, on which the government was defeated in the House of Commons last night, shows that the majority of the opposition was four, instead of three votes, as at first announced. Premier Balfour will summon the cabinet for a meeting at which it will be decided whether the ministry will resign or shall demand a new vote on the question. If a second vote is taken, it would almost certainly result in a government majority.

The conservative newspapers advise the government to continue in office, while the liberal papers declare that Mr. Balfour will endanger the British constitution, if he fails to resign.

There is no doubt that Englishmen generally would welcome the retirement of the cabinet, but Mr. Balfour realizes that if he should retire at this time, the liberals would be sure to be returned to power by a tremendous majority.

The general belief is that Mr. Balfour intends to hang on to his office in the hope that the antagonism which is felt for him throughout the country at present will die out, and that the conservative party will be able to win a general election next year.

When the House met this morning, the opposition prepared to follow up the advantage gained last night, and attempted to force the government to give some idea of its intentions. When the Scottish ecclesiastical bill came up for discussion, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, leader of the liberals, moved to report progress for the purpose of forcing an adjournment of the House until Monday, when Premier Balfour has promised to make a statement in regard to his position to the House. The liberal leader based his motion on the ground that no business should be transacted after the defeat of the government last night.

Premier Balfour opposed the motion, and made a statement to the House, saying that he would not ask the members to take up any party measures or to go through with the order of the day, but that, as the ecclesiastical bill is not of a nature to arouse a controversy, he hoped the House would continue its session.

The motion of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was then put and was voted down without a division being called.

After a short discussion of the ecclesiastical bill, Sir Alex. Asland Hood, the chief government "whip," moved that the House adjourn. The motion was carried unanimously.

The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the sitting, and the proceedings were carefully followed by large crowds in the galleries.

Premier Balfour was received with a great ovation from his followers when he entered the chamber. He gave no indication, however, of what his intentions are in regard to resigning.

This morning Balfour after hasty conferences with some of the his principal advisers decided to call a meeting of the Cabinet to decide whether the ministry should resign or go before the House of Commons and demand a new vote of confidences. If a vote of confidence is demanded it will be given by a fair majority by drumming up members absent last night. Yet essentially such a vote would be a fluke and would increase popular indignation. Balfour knows this, and may be induced to resign out of hand.

Today Mr. Balfour faced the issue of imminent resignation or further hopeless fight. If the Balfour Cabinet resigns a new election will at once be called. It is almost certain that if an election is now held the liberal free trade majority against both conservatives and nationalists will be from 50 to 100, a much larger majority than Gladstone was ever able to bring to the support of home rule, even when he counted on all the Irish members. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is the liberal party leader, and would be premier.

London, July 21.—It is reported in lobby circles about the House of Commons that at the meeting of the Cabinet held this afternoon it was decided to resign. There is no confirmation of the report.

A more serious view of the defeat of the government on the vote last night is taken this afternoon. That the situation is grave, so far as the continuance of the ministry is concerned, is admitted even in conservative quarters. Several conservative members of Parliament have given anonymous interviews declaring that they believe dissolution shouwld follow the vote of last night.

End of Strike.

Chicago, July 21.—The teamsters' strike ended yesterday, closing one of the most important chapters in Chicago's industrial history. The end was a stampede on the part of the striking drivers to get back to their jobs. Lack of funds, general dissatisfaction with the leaders, and desertions by hundreds led to the collapse. Part of the strikers still sue for quarter time when the members of the department stores drivers' union appear at the barns. Sixty per cent of them had been promised their old positions. The places of the rest already have been filled. The railway express drivers who blocked settlement after settlement by refusing to go back unless the companies agreed to take back every man who walked out, applied for their positions today. The end of the strike caused little stir. Fof weeks it had been quiet. Deliveries were made by all the big department stores, and except for the presence of policemen on the wagons, the city did not seem to be suffering any industrial throes. Following is the financial burden imposed by the strike: Loss in wages to teamsters, $500,000; contributions to strike fund by teamsters, $250,000; daily cost to board and lodge strike breakers, $5,000; Employers' Association strike fund, $750,000; daily cost to city for extra police, $3,925; total cost to city (estimated), $250,000; daily cost to county for deputy sheriffs, $1,875; total cost to county (estimated), $100,000; grand total $1,860,800. During the strike eighteen persons were killed during riots. Two more were killed in disturbances indirectly caused by the strike. About four hundred persons were injured in strike riots, and nine hundred arrests were made. The strike began April 7.

Conference With the President.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 21.—President Roosevelt is in conference this afternoon with Secretary Root. He came on the 12:20 p. m. train and was accompanied from New York by Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of The Outlook. Among the important questions that the President and his prime minister will discuss is the proposed transfer of the Panama canal from the jurisdiction of the War to that of the State Department. If Mr. Root will assume the additional work and responsibility that such a transfer will involve, it is believed that President Roosevelt will be glad to order the change made. Secretary Taft has indicated that he would be pleased to relinquish the canal on the ground that he has more than his hands full now; with the administration of the army and the Philippines. The President and Secretary Root will also confer over the details of the peace conference and a number departmental problems that have arisen during the last few weeks.

Mutinous Crew.

London, July 21.—The correspondent of the Central News at Vienna wires that dispatches received there from Galatz, Roumania, say that eight more members of the former crew of the mutinous Russian battleship, Kniaz Potemkin, who have been working in the dock yard at Gata, Calatz, have dissappeared.

A Russian woman last week took photographs of the members of the crew she saw and the police have been able to recognize the mutineers by means of these pictures. A Roumanian committee has been formed to protect the former mutineers, who were guaranteed safety from arrest on condition of their surrender to the Roumanian authorities. Dispatches from Vienna stated that fifteen of the former mutineers had been kidnapped at Galatz, by Russian secret police officers, who got the men drunk, and then hurried them across the frontier.

Japanese to Invade Siberia.

London, July 21.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from St. Petersburg announces that the landing of Japanese troops in Siberia is imminent. It is expected that the military operations will be transferred to the coast in the very near future, as that is where the Russians are weakest.

Tokio, July 21.—It is officially announced that 461 Russians on the island of Saghalen, which the Japanese troops have recently seized, have surrendered. Fifteen officers are included in the number of prisoners.

Failed to Sign Death Warrant.

Reading, Pa., July 27.—Governor Pennypacker has not yet signed the death warrant or set the execution date of Mrs. Kate Edwards, though it is three weeks since the Board of Pardons declined to interfere in her case, and it is possible that he does not intend to do so at all, thus saving the woman from the gallows.

It is thought that the Governor may allow the matter to go over to his successor in office, who would also in all probability take no action in the matter.

Admiral Sigsbee's Fleet.

Newport, R. I., July 21.—The fleet of Admiral Sigsbee, which is conveying the body of John Paul Jones to its final resting place at Annapolis, Md., passed Nantucket Shoals lightship last night, and will arrive at the Chesapeake capes tomorrow morning. A wireless dispatch was received at the torpedo station this morning from Nantucket lightship, which was sent by Admiral Sigsbee, and read as follows: "Will arrive at Chesapeake capes Saturday morning, if weather continues favorable. No incidents on passage."

Execution of a Murderer.

Annapolis, Md., July 21.—William Leazer, colored, the murderer of Patrolman John G. McNamara, of Brooklyn, Anne Arundel county, was hanged at 10:10 o'clock in the prison yard here. The murder for which Leazer paid the penalty occurred on the night of March 21st in Brooklyn. McNamara had been placed in that locality to apprehend coal thieves. He saw four men, and as he attempted to arrest one of them Leazer drew his revolver, a 38 calibre, and fired. McNamara was killed instantly.

Financial Crisis in China.

Shanghai, China, July 21.—It is stated here that a serious financial crisis may develop owing to the present condition of the markets. Several of the best known foreign firms operating in the city markets have been glutted with imports sent here for sale to Russians and Japanese, while neither belligerent has shown any inclination to purchase the goods, and they have been left in the hands of the merchants.

Eclipse Stakes.

London, July 21.—The race for the Eclipse stakes of 10,000 sovereigns, run at Sandown Park, today, was won by Uval d'R d'Or, with Stern up. Cicero, ridden by Maher, was second and Langibby, with Madden up, finished third. The odds on the winner were at 3 to 1, and Cicero, the favorite, was played at 13 to 8.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 21.—The stock market during the first hour was left almost wholly to the professional room traders, who, being generally committed to the bear side, offered down a number of stocks in which they thought there was an absence of speculative interest. Commission business was small and disappointing, with most of the outside orders on the selling side There was no significance to the trading at any time in any part of the room.

DIED.

At 7 a. m. Thursday, July 20th 1905, JOHN JACOB, eldest son of Jacob and Nettie Brill, born July 20th 1895, aged 10 years. Funeral from the residence of his parents, 206 Duke street, Alexandria, Va., tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 9:30 a. m., thence to St. Mary's Church.

Startling Revelations Expected.

New York, July 21.—Eleanor Vandeventer, fiance of Frederick E. Carlton, Brooklyn's so-called Bluebeard, is under arrest today in the Adams street police station. Startling revelations in the remarkable case are expected as the result of her arrest. It is believed that Inspector Cross expects her to tell facts of sensational interest concerning the man who is suspected of poisoning the last two of his six or more wives. Carlton was arraigned today in the Brooklyn courthouse on a charge of larceny. The arrest of Mrs. Vandeventer, who says that she was engaged to marry Carlton and that the wedding was to be in six months, was made after a long conference between Inspector Cross, Anthony Comstock, head of the society for the prevention of vice, and Miss Marie Breslin, of No. 145 Wyckoff street. She is charged with violating a section of the penal code which concerns the exposure or sale of obscene photographs. Miss Breslin declares that Carlton threated to make a trick protograph of her by placing her face on another figure. The photograph which it is believed he intended to combine with her was found in one of Carlton's trunks. Mrs Vandeventer is said to have posed for it. Mrs. Vandeventer has admitted that her life had been insured by Carlton, who is now accused of defrauding insurance companies by burying "dummy" bodies. The arrest of another woman is now being considered, according to Inspector Cross.

After having been cross examined by Inspector Cross Eleanor Vandeventer made an attempt at suicide today by attempting to jump from the window of the inspector's room at police headquarters in Brooklyn. She was barely prevented by the inspector from carrying out her design.

Arraigned before Magistrate Tighe, in Brooklyn, she pleaded not guilty, and was held in $500 bail for trial July 31st. She is charged with three crimes. They are conspiracy, attempted blackmail, and violation of section 317 of the penal code, in uttering and having in her possession obscene photographs.

The photographs were those of herself in a nude condition. From these the head had been removed and that of Miss Marie Breslin pasted in its place. Then the composite photo was photographed, and use to blackmail Miss Breslin.

Germany's Naval Demonstration.

Copenhagen, July 21.—The squadron of German warships which will participate in the naval demonstration in Swedish waters, arrived here today. The warships were given an enthusiastic welcome when they entered the port.

The warships will proceed later to Sweden where manoeuvers will be held. At some of the European capitals great significance has been attached to this sending of a German fleet to Sweden at this time.

Nan Patterson Revisits Race Track.

New York, July 27.—Nan Patterson, the show girl, attended the Brighton Beach races yesterday. She drove to the track in a friend's automobile accompanied by Miss Violet Cecil, of Toronto, who plays front-line engagements in high-price choruses. Both women were expensively gowned, the Patterson girl's frock being of some disaphanous clinging stuff of pearl gray. She wore a big picture hat trimmed with a white ostrich plume, the tip of which nearly touched her shoulders.

The girl was not shy about letting herself be seen. She admitted that the last time she was at the Brighton track was the day before Caesar Young was killed.

It was at the Brighton track, so Assistant District Attorney Rand insisted, that the plot was perfected to kill Young the next morning.

No oppressing memory seemed to bother the girl. Soon after geting to the grand stand she asked a betting commissioner for the odds on Sly Ben, a starter in the first race. The colt was the favorite in the betting at 8 to 5.

Learning the price, Nan Patterson, taking a roll of yellow backs from her handbag, said:

"Put that $10 for me; that's 16 to 10."

Sly Ben got the worst of the start and finished second, two lengths behind the winner, Sue Smith. The girl had better luck in three of the succeeding races, quite a small winner on the day.

Meat High in Germany.

The price of meat has risen in Germany from 20 to 75 per cent. recently, so that now prices are higher by 30 to 35 per cent. than in the neighboring continental states. The prices outside of Germany usually are 10 to 15 per cent. lower. Popular appeals directed by the organized meat dealers are being made to the government both in Berlin and in the provinces to raise the prohibition against the importation of live cattle. The prices of meat supplied by the retailers yesterday allowing for difference in weights and moneys were: Fillet of beef, 42 cents per pound; boiling beef, 27 cents, pork 31½ cents; veal, 31½ cents. The agitation for cheaper meat by abolishing the exclusion laws recurs at intervals. These laws are based as in the case of the American canned meats on sanitary grounds. But the constention advanced that the sanitary regulations are made unnecessarily severe in order to prohibit cattle and meat imports in the interest of German farmers.

Anniversary of Bull Run.

Today is the 44th anniversary of the first battle of Bull Run, on which occasion the federal army under General McDowell was routed and driven back to the defenses of Washington. The battle occurred about three months from the beginning of hostilities between the North and the South, and caused the greatest consternation north of the Potomac river.

In response to the cry of "On to Richmond!" the union forces, under Gen Irvin McDowell, were sent into Virginia, and on July 16 McDowell's army of 30,000 men was moved in the direction of Manassas, where General Beauregard, at the head of the Confederate troops, had established his base with a smaller force. The engagement began on the morning of Sunday, July 21, and continued until evening. In the interval between the battle and the assembling of the troops the Confederates had been reinforced by the command of Gen. J. E. Johnston, which had been hastily sent up from Winchester. McDowell's army was divided into three columns, commanded, respectively, by Generals Hunter, Tyler and Heintzelman. Hunter, in charge of the right column, bore down on the Confederates and after hard fighting dislodged them from their position, but the advance of the union forces was checked by the stubborn resistance of the brigade under Gen. Thos. J. Jackson, the determined stand made by that general earning for him the sobriquet, which stuck to him throughout his life, of "Stonewall" Jackson. Through the gallant resistance of General Jackson's brigade the union line was held back until the arrival of reinforcements in the shape of a fresh contingent of General Johnston's command, under Gen. Kirby Smith, turned the tide of battle against the federals. The fresh troops were hurled upon the flank and rear of McDowell's army, which was gradually forced from the field and which retreated toward Washington in haste and confusion, completely demoralized. The federal loss in killed and wounded was 1,500, besides 1,300 missing. The total Confederate loss was about 1,900.

The day after the rout Alexandria was crowded with stragglers, some of whom made their way across the Potomac after having discarded their arms. Most of the refugees were hungry and worn out, and in many instances the people of this city opened their doors and furnished the temporary aid needed. The government had made no preparation to feed the men, and some of them were in a sorry condition. Chilly and rainy weather prevailed several days after the battle which added to the discomfort of the soldiers.

The battle while it raged caused considerable anxiety in Alexandria, as there was no way in which to forecast the result. The roar of the conflict could be distinctly heard here, the southwest wind conveying the sound of the cannonading, which was suggestive of an approaching thunder storm.

New Sidewheeler.

The keel of the new side-wheel steamer of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company will be laid at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company within a few days and the vessel is to be ready for service by May 1, 1906. As has been stated the contract for building the steamer has been awarded to the Newport News Company, over three competing shipbuilding companies in the north, the contract price being $250,000. The new steamer will be of steel construction throughout—steel hull, steel hoist and steel decks, even the partition between the different rooms being of the same metal. The plans call for a three-deck steamer 270 feet long over all, with a beam of thirty-eight feet on the water line and sixty-two feet over the guards. She will be fifteen feet deep in the hold, and will have a draft of eight feet forward and nine feet aft. Her main saloon on the second or saloon deck will be 128 feet long and 52 feet wide. As she is designed for day service only two of the twenty-two rooms in the saloon will be fitted for sleeping apartments. The other rooms will be used as private parlors, and will be models of elegance. On the main deck in the after portion of the boat the dining saloon will be a spacious apartment seating 260 persons. The steamer will be equipped with a vertical inclined compound engine with four cylinders, developing 2,000-horse-power, and supplied by four Scotch boilers. The contract is eighteen miles an hour. The new steamer will have a carrying capacity of from 2,500 to 3,000 passengers, and will be the largest passenger-carrying steamer on the river. With the completion of the new steamer and of the two ferryboats now building the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company will have a fleet of six steamers.

More Pleasant Weather.

The weather yesterday, while warm, was an improvement on that of Wednesday, although early last night conditions became sultry again. Later, however, a refreshing breeze relieved the situation somewhat, and during the night the wind changed to the south west and materially lowered the temperature. The weather this morning was pleasant, the cool breeze being enjoyed after the sultry conditions of the past two weeks. The storms which set in Wednesday evening extended over a large area. In many places wind and lightning caused damage and in some cases people were killed by bolts.

Suit for Damages.

Suit for $5,000 damages was instituted in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by Walter H. Howard against the Randall Potomac River Line Company. It is claimed in the declaration that Mr. Howard tripped over the lid of a manhole on the steamer T. V. Arrowsmith, on which he was a passenger, near River View. He says he was thrown forward and cut his head severely.

Among those who took prizes at the Manassas Horse Show yesterday was Mr. Charles R. Hooff, jr., of Fairfax.

Personal.

Mr. J. Alston Cabell, of Richmond, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was in the city today and met a large number of voters. He says he is receiving much encouragement in his canvass throughout the State.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Melchior, and their daughter left today for Gloversville, N. Y., where they will remain for a short time.

Miss Ethel Remington and mother left yesterday for Durham, N. C., on account of the serious illness of Miss Remington's sister, Mrs. Weatherspoon.

Mrs. W. P. Henshaw and daughters are visiting friends in Orange county.

A very pretty and largely attended german was given in the town hall Monday night. Many were present from a distance. It was gracefully led by Mr. Harry Beverley, of Alexandria, and Miss Margaret Moore, of this place.—[Fairfax Herald.

Miss Alice Chinn is visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. W. Richardson, in Fairfax.

Miss Mary Johnson is visiting her brother, Major A. Hunter Johnson, in Harrisonburg.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary J. Davis took place this afternoon, and was attended by a number of relatives and acquaintances of the family. The services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Stump, of the M. E. Church South.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Finch, who died at her home in Fairfax county on Wednesday, took place from Pohick Church this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Meade.

The remains of Ella Williams, colored, who died at a Washington hospital Wednesday, were brought here this morning and interred.

Baseball.

The Alexandria Athletic Club will play the Leesburg Athletic Club Baseball team tomorrow evening at Leesburg, at 3:30 o'clock. They will leave here at 1:30 via the Southern Railway for that town. The Leesburg team is said to be one of the strongest in the State, having just returned from a ten days' playing trip which included Woodstock, Orange and Winchester. The line up of the Alexandrias will be: Bright, Kraft, Dourgherty, Ellis, Gray, Purcell, Ennis, Wheatley, Brenner, Bright and Benzette.

Flimflammed.

Bettie Green, colored, has reported to the police that she was yesterday the victim of a flimflam game operated by a negro named William Huston. The later obtained $3, a watch valued at $5 and two rings. The woman says Huston worked the game in the road leading to Braddock Heights, a short distance beyond the corporation line. The accused is a resident of Washington, and the police of that city have been requested to arrest him.

Old Dominion Robbed.

We, the players of the Old Dominion Baseball Team, find that we can not beat 5 clubs, and the president, secretary and treasurer of the league at one time, so we will resign from the league unless the Del Ray consents to play us July 22, the game that was thrown out Wednesday night. We won that game fair and square in the fifth inning, when the Del Ray delayed the game for 15 minutes. The empire gave us the game 9 to 0.

A PLAYER.

Wheat Takes a Rise.

Alleged confirmation of black rust in the wheat fields of the northwest sent the price of September wheat whirling up to 88 in Chicago yesterday. The advance was 3½ cents a bushel compared with Wednesday's closing.

The bulge was accompanied by scenes of much excitement in the wheat pit, shorts frantically jostling each other in attempts to secure the coveted grain. Telegrams from Minneapolis and Duluth detailing damage to the wheat crop in South Dakota by the dreaded blight were the cause of the excitement.

During the last hour of trading some reaction occurred on profit-taking. The market, however, closed strong, with September at 87½, a net gain of 2½ cents.

Wheat in New York advanced 3 cents a bushel yesterday on the rust news, shorts providing most of the demand. It reacted about a half cent near the close in response to rumors that damage news had been exaggerated for speculative purposes.

RECONCILIATION.

A dispatch from Amherst, Va., to the Richmond Times-Dispatch says: "Ernest Chappelle is once again among the happiest of men. He is back in Amherst with his wife of ten days with him again. A reconciliation was effected between them yesterday afternoon and about half past seven, he left the home of Mr. Richeson, the father of the bride, for Amherst. Chappelle and bride have just driven into town. As they drove through town, cheers greeted them. When asked if he had any statement to make, he said that she had come back to him on her own free will never to leave him any more, and that she would tell the rest. The bride said that she wanted to go home and her husband was afraid for her to go because he was afraid that her parents would not let her come back any more. This was the reason she had gone home. She had never had any intention of deserting him. The bride would not say anything about why she had married Chappelle.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Chappelle called up his wife over the 'phone. Mrs. Chappelle's mother answered the 'phone, but when told that Mr. Chappelle wished to speak to her daughter, she called Mrs. Chappelle to the 'phone. The result of the conversation was that Mr. Chappelle quickly got his buggy and left for Mr. Richeson's.

Mr. Richeson denied that his daughter had ever deserted her husband. When askee to explain why she went home, he said that she was anxious to go home on a visit, and that her husband continually postponed carrying her, and as she was very anxious to see her people, she decided that she would go away. She simply wanted to go home, and went. She had no intention of deserting her husband.

Mr. Richeson is very indignant that the story should have been circulated that his daughter had deserted her husband on account of the visit to the village of a young man who had formerly paid her attention. When asked if what he had to say about his daughter having married Chappelle against her wishes, Mr. Richeson denied having made such statement. But further than this would not say.

Georgians at Manassas.

One hundred and fifty Georgia Confederate veterans arrived at Manassas yesterday to attend their reunion. Several ladies accompanied the party. They went directly to the battlefield to place markers to note their positions at the two battles. Last night the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy tendered them a reception. Col. Edmund Berkeley delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the local camp, to which Dr. A. C. North responded. Mr. Robert A. Hutchison, of the local bar, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the town, to which Capt. W. J. Hudson, Company I, Seventh Georgia Volunteers, responded. Dr. H. M. Clarkson read an original poem. Rev. Dr. Dudley Powers delivered a fine address at the solicitation of the chapter. Today at the Confederate picnic near the battlefield, Dr. Powell, of Prince William, and Judge Barley and Mr. C. C. Carlin, of this city, delivered addresses. A number of Alexandrians were present. The regiment will return home tomorrow.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five minutes I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy it for sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Hunting Muskrats at Night.

There are three ways by which muskrats are captured—by shooting, by trapping and by spearing. A few may be secured at night by creeping as noiselessly as possible along the creek edges and watching for them to crawl up on the bank to feed. In this they are very dainty. Having secured a favorite root, they approach cautiously the water's edge and dip it in and rub off the mud, dip it in again and again until it is perfectly clean and suited to their taste, when it is eaten with evident relish, provided the sportsman is sufficiently interested in the process to wait. A boat, however, is usually used, as the rats can be more easily and quietly approached on the water. In this case two persons occupy the same boat, the sportsman requiring a pusher. As this sport can only be engaged in at night, the sky must be comparatively clear in order that the hunter may have the advantage of the moonlight, or, better still, bright starlight. A headlight, with reflector, is, however, sometimes used on the bow of the boat, and this arrangement is frequently quite successful during the darker nights to one sufficiently well acquainted with the hunting grounds.—Baltimore Sun.

Trees.

Trees have about them something beautiful and attractive even to the fancy, since they cannot change their places, are witnesses of all the changes that take place around them and as some reach a great age they become, as it were, historical monuments, and, like ourselves, they have a life, growing and passing away, not being inanimate and unvarying, like the fields and rivers. One sees them passing through various stages and at last, step by step, approaching death, which makes them look still more like ourselves.—Humboldt.

Cutting Off the Nose.

In some parts of the world, especially Italy and India, it has been customary to employ removal of the nose as a form of punishment, sometimes judicial, but chiefly as a mode of carrying out private revenge. Especially in some districts of India is it considered a suitable form of punishment for a husband to inflict on a wife whose conduct he does not approve. Among the Romans this penalty was not at all rarely inflicted both by the law and by private animosity.

Indian Twins.

Indian twins are a great curiosity, for it is said that Indians never permit twins to live. Twins, in their belief, are heralds of impending evil, for a great many years ago the abduction of beautiful twin daughters by members of a distant tribe was the cause of war and great loss of life. Hence, probably, originated the practice of killing Indian twins as soon as they are born.

Temptation rarely comes in working hours. It is in their leisure time that men are made or marred.

His Spats.

"And do you mean to say, madam, that you and your husband never had any spats?"

"My husband had a pair once, sir, but he gave 'em to the boy who sprinkled our grass."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good Luck.

Indigestion Cured.

There is no case of indigestion, Dyspepsia or Stomach Trouble that will not yield to the digestive and strengthening influence of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy takes the strain off the stomach by digesting what you eat and allowing it to rest until it grows strong again. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure affords quick and permanent relief from Indigestion and all stomach troubles, builds up the system and so purifies that disease can not attack and gain a foothold as when in a weakened condition. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick streets.

The pills that act as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Billousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley, N. D., says: "Two bottles of these Famous Little Pills cured me of chronic constipation.' Good for either children or adults. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner of Queen and Patrick streets,

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Sickening Shivering Fits

of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric-Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes. "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons drug store; price 50c. guaranteed.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. This being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Low Week End Rates, Washington Southern Railway.
